FURIOUS GALE SWEEPS COLORADO.

City of Colorado Springs Wrecked and Other Towns Feel Storm's Fury.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Col., Nov. 22.—The morning sun rose this morning on a city badly scared and wrecked, but not discouraged, by the most fearful ordeal in its history. The gale began to subside about midnight, when it was blowing at the rate of about fifty or sixty miles an hour, and it has continued gradually to abate since that hour. Its highest velocity, as reported by the weather bureau at Colorado College, was 55 miles an hour.

No loss of life has been reported. Edgar T. Ensign, formerly State Forestry Commissioner, was caught under a falling pole on Tejon street, near the El Paso Club, and pinned to the ground. He has a compound fracture of one leg and internal injuries that will, in view of his advanced age, probably prove fatal.

The damage is the greatest in the business part of the city. The El Paso bank, Durkee building, Gidding block, Opera House, High School, postoffice, Antlers livery, Colorado Springs Transfer Company and Mining Exchange buildings, all in the center of the city, have roofs torn off or badly damaged and wreckage blocks the principal streets. Plate glass windows all over the city are shattered and the loss in these alone will amount to thousands of dollars.

From outlying sections of the city reports have come of destruction of many small dwelling houses. In Ivy Wild, a suburb, Smith's greenhouses were blown down and burned.

There were about a dozen alarms of fire during the day and night. Firemen did valiant service and prevented spread of the flames.

At 2 o'clock the Chief of Police and Mayor Robinson announced that at least 100 frame residences had been crushed or wrecked completely by the gale and thousands of shade trees have been torn up by the roots.

The wire situation in the city is appalling. Few telephones are in service and not a single toll line wire a mile outside the city. The car lines are in even worse shape. Trolley wires are down and street cars on their backs, being overturned by the wind. The Post and Telegraph Company has not a wire anywhere. The Western Union has only the one to Kansas City over the Rock Island.

Between Denver and the Springs many miles of pole lines are down and

DAMAGE BY FLOOD

Streams are Running Full in Many Places.

STOCKTON, Nov. 22.—No rain has fallen here today, but the sky is overcast with dark clouds, indicating that a further precipitation may be expected. The streams and waterways about Stockton are beginning to show the effects of the heavy downpour to the east and the northeast. Miner, Mormon and Stockton channels have risen two or three feet during the night and are still rising. There are no fears of a flood, however.

FLOODS IN SANTA CLARA.

SAN JOSE, Nov. 22.—Today is cloudy, but there has been no rain since last night. The country is thoroughly soaked, and during the past few days 6.65 inches of rain has fallen. Creeks which were running bank-full last night are subsiding today, and unless another big storm comes the water will do no more damage. The lowlands are still flooded and considerable damage has been done.

SACRAMENTO'S RAINFALL.

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 22.—The rainfall in this city for the twenty-four hours ending at 7 o'clock this morning amounted to seventy-two hundredths of an inch. The rainfall for the present season is 5.58 as against 6.96 inches to an equal date last season.

The storm in the mountains has abated, and the trains are now going and coming on schedule time.

POPE'S FAINTING SPELLS

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire. PARIS, Nov. 22.—A dispatch to the Temps from Rome says the Pope yesterday visited the Basilica of St. Peter's and experienced such fatigue that he had to take to his bed. It is further claimed that he fainted twice.

will require weeks to replace.

INCIDENTS OF THE STORM.

DENVER, Nov. 22.—Delayed trains bringing in three and occasionally frightened passengers brought fragmentary news of the storm at Colorado Springs and along the road from Pueblo to Denver. The last two trains to arrive in Denver reached here about midnight and brought reports that up to 3 o'clock the hurricane was still tagging. As far as could be learned there were no fatalities, but great damage was done to property.

Engineer F. T. Desmond of train No. 4, on the Denver and Rio Grande, was the last engineer to run safely through the storm. He left Pueblo at 7 o'clock and after leaving Fountain ran into the hurricane. From that time on, except during a stop at Colorado Springs, he was compelled to run by guesswork. It was only at intervals, in passing through cuts, that the track ahead could be seen. The cab windows were blown out by the wind and it was impossible to keep the headlights or cab lights lit. The storm was left behind after Palmer Lake was reached.

Just ahead of No. 4 was train No. 3 of the Colorado & Southern. Engineer George Gray reported that he had never seen a worse storm. It being impossible to see ahead of the engine.

The two sensational runs were those made by train No. 2 and train No. 10 on the Denver & Rio Grande. Engineer William Crook was on train No. 2. He was unable to get orders after leaving Pueblo. When he reached Santa Creek at Kellor the sand was flying so thick that he could not see the bridge, and he stopped in the cut to wait in the hope that the storm would abate. He laid there for nearly an hour, and at last one of the crew volunteered to crawl over the trestle to the bridge and inspect the structure. The bridge is nearly 200 feet long and is about a quarter of a mile the other side of the station of Kellor. The trainman managed to creep up to the bridge and found it safe. It was impossible to walk and the trip occupied nearly an hour, the distance being about half a mile. No. 2 passed over safely and after waiting at Colorado Springs until certain that the right of way could be had, ran through the storm to Monument, where orders were received. In passing through the storm the train was damaged considerably, but no one was injured.

DEATH IN STORM

Twenty-four Lives are Lost in a Tennessee Town.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Nov. 22.—The number of deaths from the storm in Williamson county Tuesday night is seven and the property loss amounts to many thousands of dollars. One death, that of Clayton Tucker, has occurred near Columbia, making the total in that section twenty-four. Three persons injured at Nokesville are in a critical condition.

Three members of the Ellis family living at Walnut Lake, Tunka county, Mississippi, were killed by Tuesday's storm. They were blown away with their house. Clarence Thomas, living near Corinth, Miss., was carried away by the wind and no trace of him has been found.

APPEAL FOR HELP.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Nov. 22.—The people of La Grange, Tenn., have sent out an appeal for help. They say all the business portion and nearly all the residence portion of the town are in ruins, and many of the inhabitants are destitute. They ask that contributions be sent to W. B. Hancock, Mayor of the town.

SOUGHT AWFUL DEATH.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire. FRESNO, Nov. 22.—Con Daly, who says he is a member of the Bakers' Union at Los Angeles and is a stranger here, suffered amputation of both feet by being run over by the yard switch engine at the Southern Pacific depot this forenoon. Bystanders say that he deliberately threw himself under the wheels. He was taken out from between the wheels of the tank and the engine. He has three sisters living in Boston. Daly is at the County Hospital.

REIFF INVESTIGATION.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire. LONDON, Nov. 22.—Contrary to expectation, the racing calendar today did not give the decision of the stewards of the Jockey Club in the case of the charges brought by Lord Durham against Lester Reiff, the American jockey, and it was learned that the investigation is still in progress.

MERCED IS UNDER WATER.

Trains Held Up But the Water is Now Receding.

Four Feet of Water in Some of the Homes.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire. MERCED, Cal., Nov. 22.—The overflow of Bear Creek last night inundated the entire eastern portion of the town, filling all cellars and yards and making it impossible for residents of that part of town to get to the business section this morning.

At 11 o'clock today the waters had gone down considerably, but many houses are still surrounded by from two to four feet of it.

The road-beds of the Santa Fe and Southern Pacific were washed out in places inside the city limits. The Southern Pacific east-bound overland due here at 11 o'clock last night, stayed here until 7 o'clock this morning. The 1:15 A. M. west-bound overland came to within a mile of town and then backed up to Fresno and went down the west side branch.

On the Santa Fe the east-bound passenger due here at 1:15 A. M. laid here until 11 o'clock today, and the west-bound train due at 2:30 A. M. stood on the track a mile south of town until the same hour, while the work train was repairing the track. The tracks are still in bad condition and trains are moving over them very carefully.

GAGE IS AWAY

Successor to Hirschberg Was Not Elected Today.

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 22.—The trustees of the Preston School of Industry here to have met here today in conference with Governor Gage discussing a successor to L. A. Hirschberg, but owing to the absence of the Governor from the city nothing was done. The trustees met only long enough to accept the resignation of Major H. M. Blair as military instructor.

APACHE KID DEAD

Famous Indian Outlaw Meets His Fate in Mexico.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 22.—A special to the Globe-Democrat from El Paso says that President Joseph P. Smith of the Mormon Church, who has arrived there accompanied by O. A. Woodruff, after a tour among the colonies in Mexico, reports the killing of the notorious Apache Kid in the recent Indian raid at Colonia, Pacheco.

Mr. Woodruff was one of the party that pursued the retreating Indians and assisted at the burial of the killed. Among them was one apparently the leader, and who is now positively identified as the notorious Apache Kid. Mr. Woodruff said they will put in an application for the reward offered for him by the United States.

DIED IN AWFUL AGONY.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire. PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 22.—Amos Zener, night watchman at the car barns of the St. John motor line, met a horrible death this morning about 5 o'clock. He was using a motor engine preparatory to its beginning the work of the day when it is supposed the torch which he carried set fire to his clothing. He was terribly burned and died in great agony.

SENATOR DAVIS DELIRIOUS.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire. ST. PAUL, Nov. 22.—The condition of Senator Davis was reported about the same this morning. The delirium continues.

OVALATION FOR PAUL KRUGER.

Lands at Marseilles Amid Cheering Thousands.

Says the Boers Will Fight to the Last Extremity.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire. MARSEILLES, Nov. 22.—Paul Kruger, former president of the South African Republic, landed here at 10:45 a. m. Mr. Kruger cannot but be elated at the warmth of his reception by the people of Marseilles today. He may be said to have been borne on an irresistible wave of enthusiasm from the landing stage to his hotel. The broad streets and boulevards through which the route lay presented a perfect sea of human beings, all gathered there prompted by the unanimous desire to welcome the aged Boer statesman. From the moment the white twelve-oared barge left the side of the Gelderland with Mr. Kruger, who appeared to be in good health, sitting in her stern, surrounded by Boer representatives, including Dr. Leyds and Messrs. Fischer and Vessels, a storm of cheers broke and never ceased until Mr. Kruger entered his hotel. Even then a vast concourse of people remained in front of the building until Mr. Kruger appeared on the balcony, where he had to remain for some time, uncovered, acknowledging the acclamations of his thousands of admirers, who continued cheering until they were hoarse with shouting.

Replying to the storm of acclamations from the solid block of thousands of enthusiastic people, Mr. Kruger said the warm reception given him would do much to soothe the wounds in his heart. The Boers, he added, will never sacrifice their freedom. They will rather be exterminated to the last man.

Replying to the addresses of a welcome of the presidents of the Paris and Marseilles committees, Mr. Kruger spoke in Dutch and in a low voice, accompanying his words with energetic movements of his hat, which he held in his right hand. After thanking the committees for the warmth of the reception accorded him and expressing gratitude for the sympathy he had received from the French government, he spoke of the war as terrible and barbarously conducted by the British. He said: "I have fought with the savages, but the present war is even worse. We will never surrender. We are determined to fight to the last extremity, and if the republics of the Transvaal and Orange Free State lose their independence it will be because they have lost every man woman and child."

This declaration which Mr. Kruger made dispelled at once any impression that he intended to accept a compromise from the British government. His announcement was greeted with a roar of cheers and cries of "Vive Kruger," "Vive les Boers," "Vive la Liberté."

The scene at the landing place was an animated one. The decks of all the steamers in the Lyons Basin were crowded with sight-seers. The crowd swelled to great proportions as the news spread through the city that the Gelderland had entered the harbor.

A cold northwest wind, which set in during the night, cleared away yesterday's clouds and the morning broke fresh but with bright sunshine. The inner harbor was all the savor for the decoration of a number of French yachts with multi-colored flags and pennants, among which Boer flags were prominently displayed.

Dr. Leyds and Messrs. Fischer and Vessels, an interpreter and Dr. Van Hammel immediately proceeded to the Dutch warship in a steam launch and boarded her. A conference between the Boer leaders ensued, while the Gelderland was slowed down behind the Island of the Chateau d'If. She remained there until 10 o'clock, when she steamed into the outer harbor, firing a salute of twenty-one guns, to which a shore battery replied.

A flotilla of pleasure boats and row boats cruised around the Gelderland immediately after she had reached her moorings, the occupants cheering for Mr. Kruger and the Boers. The reception committee, of which Senator Pauls was president, had been waiting for two hours when a boat from the Gelderland landed the bearer of a message saying Mr. Kruger could not land for two hours.

BOERS MAKE A DASH.

Enter British Lines and Attack a Post.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire. MASERU, Basutoland, Wednesday, Nov. 21.—Native report that former President Steyn and Dewet with a thousand men traversed the British lines between Alexandria and Wardingham's Store and attacked a British post, subsequently retiring by the road to Dewetdorp, in the Orange River country.

WHAT CRIME COSTS.

Oakland Said to Be a Well Governed City.

Chief Wants More Men on the Police Force.

Chief of Police Hodgkins presented before the Board of Police and Fire Commissioners last night, his annual report for the year ending June 30, 1900, in part as follows:

"To be able to keep good order, to guard the lives and property of our citizens in such a manner as to prevent crime, has been my highest ambition, believing that it is the true policy of a police officer to prevent crime if possible, thereby saving the trouble and expense of looking after offenders after the crimes have been committed. It affords me great satisfaction to be able to state that during the past year no serious disturbances or unusual number of serious offenses have occurred."

"An examination of the records will show that comparatively very few of those who committed crimes in Oakland during the past year escaped arrest and punishment. In the latter part of the year quite a number of robberies were committed, one of our citizens was seriously wounded by being shot and another killed at his place of business by a gang of robbers. This gang engaged in three offenses during the year, but all of them, with one exception, were eventually arrested, convicted and are now serving terms in the Penitentiary."

The report points out the need of an increase in the police force, in view of the large area, and the city's close proximity to San Francisco. The conduct of the officers and men of the department is commended as having been good, and likewise the faithful manner in which the special officers have performed their duties.

An obituary in honor of the death of E. L. Cottage, who passed away February 27, 1900, is incorporated in the report, and this is followed by the usual roster of the Police Department.

A tabulated statement of the arrests made during the year shows 5,383 arrests made, and thirty-three held to answer for murder, manslaughter, grand larceny, 10; the balance being for other minor offenses. Of the total 2,571 were convicted, 431 dismissed and thirty-three held to answer. Inmate persons sent to Receiving Hospital, 54; runaway children, 6; felony and misdemeanors en route to other cities, 6; deserters from United States navy, 2. Of arrests on suspicion there were 179, of which 121 were dismissed and 57 convicted.

The total amount of money taken from prisoners arrested on their discharge amounted to $15,079.51. The patrol wagon ran a total of 4,731 miles during the year and made 1,829 runs.

Of the arrests made during the year 171 were females and 2,132 males. Their nationality shows that 2,130 were born in the United States, Ireland 210, Germany 112, and the balance from other countries. As to their occupations, 294 were laborers, 125 clerks, 107 housewives, 412 no occupation, and the balance other occupations.

The total amount of fines collected in the Police Court was $3,194, and compared with last year's report the number of arrests were not over 100 increase. Of warrants 63 were served, and 2,002 subpoenas. Just 1,000 persons were provided with free lodgings. The total cost per month for meals to prisoners was $102.67.

The total amount of property stolen during the year was $12,519.90, recovered $1,822.25; the stock stolen $4,656.50, recovered $724.79; number of animals killed or removed from streets dead, 2,514; the total receipts collected by Poundmaster, $2,265.25; letters received and answered by Chief, 1,112; telegrams received and sent, 117; postals, 1,473; circulars, 2,218.

The total expense of the Police Department, including salaries, supplies, etc., was $2,850.45.

AL WILLIAMS' FATE IS NOT YET DECIDED.

The Jury Will Pass on the Guilt of Conductor Martin's Slayer Tomorrow.

STOCKTON, Cal., Nov. 22.—There is little chance that the case of Captain Al Williams, charged with the murder of Conductor William Martin at the Stockton Hotel Mineral Baths last August, will go to the jury today.

District Attorney Ashley, for the prosecution, occupied all of yesterday with his argument, and Attorney Nutter, who began this morning for the defense, had not finished at 2 o'clock this afternoon. He will be followed by Attorney Frank D. Nicol for the defense, and the District Attorney will close the case for the prosecution.

The Judge's instructions to the jury are quite lengthy, and the intentions are that the case will not go to the jury before tomorrow.

The District Attorney said: "There was apparently a planned quarrel by which the defendant sought to find an excuse for the killing of Martin."

SULLIVAN PLAN A IS DEAD.

Great Musician Passes Away Suddenly in London.

LONDON, Nov. 21.—Sir Arthur Sullivan, the musical composer, is dead. His death was very sudden. At 9 o'clock this morning he was laughing and talking, and died a few minutes later of heart failure.

He had been ailing for some time, but it was not believed his heart was affected.

Later it became known that Sir Arthur Sullivan had been ailing since he returned from Switzerland in the middle of September. He caught a chill there and his chest and lungs became affected. He took to his bed a fortnight ago, but was convalescing and sitting up in his bed just before he expired.

The afternoon papers print long eulogies of the deceased.

ROBBERS TRAILED

Five Penned in Cabin But Refuse to Surrender.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Nov. 22.—The five masked men who held up a passenger train on the St. Louis, Iron Mountain and Southern near Gifford last night are surrounded by a Sheriff's posse three miles from Gifford. The robbers are barricaded in a cabin and refuse to surrender. Reinforcements are hurrying to the aid of the posse.

Taking the story of the defendant itself, it cannot save him." Williams' testimony was gone into statement by statement. The defendant's manner on the stand was described. "And then," said Attorney Ashley, "the watch came down off the stand." "We have an exception to that remark," interposed Attorney Nutter and stood at once. "You are entitled to your exception," said the District Attorney, "and I beg your pardon for using it, but the subject fallow of the defendant on the stand and the way in which he left it caused me to use the remark out of pity for the defendant and nothing more." The defense of Williams has been that he shot to protect his life, which he believed was in danger. The prosecution claims that Williams did not fear for his life when he fired the fatal shots and that he did not say he acted in self-defense until he was placed on the witness stand.

SENATOR CLARK ELECTED PRESIDENT OF THE NEW LINE.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire. SALT LAKE, Utah, Nov. 22.—Senator W. A. HAYNE MAKES EVERYBODY WEARY

Little Progress is Being Made in the Water Rate Trial.

Lawyer Hayne's cross-examination of Professor Le Conte yesterday afternoon was only a preliminary to the main trial. This is to call it by the mildest name applicable. The attorney began by questioning the witness about the value of the water company's plant. He asked him to state the value of the plant in the estimated valuation of the water company's plant. Among the incidents mentioned in Le Conte's report of 1899 were several losses of horses. Hayne wanted to know if Le Conte was an expert on horses; if he had bought and sold many horses; what examination made of these particular horses; and so on. It was a long and tedious trial.

A twenty-dollar foot bridge then attracted the lawyer's eagle eye. He wanted to know how much lumber it contained and what kind and how much allowance had been made for labor in constructing it. A long string of similar questions were asked, apparently for no other purpose than to annoy the witness and make light of his testimony. Professor Le Conte said he had obtained his prices for lumber from Taylor & Company, and quotations for iron work and material from hardware dealers. In questioning him about the value of the water company's plant, Hayne asked him to state the value of the plant in the estimated valuation of the water company's plant. He asked him to state the value of the plant in the estimated valuation of the water company's plant.

COLONEL MENDEL'S PRICES. This morning Professor Le Conte produced the price list of labor and materials which he had secured in 1899 from Colonel Mendel, United States Engineer in charge of harbor improvements at this port for thirty years. He said he had used this list in checking up the prices given him by Mr. Taylor and Company. He produced the quotations on plate iron which he obtained from Merrill & Peterson. In addition he produced his original surveys and the calculations which he used in making his report.

A SHARP PROCEEDING. After looking at them Hayne passed all the memoranda over to M. K. Miller and J. C. Crawford for examination. Mr. McCutcheon said the memoranda should be placed in evidence. The city's expert on the water rate trial, Hayne, was asked to produce the memoranda which he had secured in 1899 from Colonel Mendel, United States Engineer in charge of harbor improvements at this port for thirty years. He said he had used this list in checking up the prices given him by Mr. Taylor and Company. He produced the quotations on plate iron which he obtained from Merrill & Peterson. In addition he produced his original surveys and the calculations which he used in making his report.

YESTERDAY'S PROCEEDINGS. When the Tribune went to press yesterday Engineer Le Conte was still on the witness stand. Professor Le Conte said he had no objection to the memoranda being inspected, and Meene and McCutcheon apparently did not consider the matter worth contending about. Hayne spent more than an hour inquiring about all the elements that entered into the estimate of $2 a yard for excavating 75 yards of rock for the upper headgate. The total valuation for the work is $150,000. Hayne asked him to state the value of the plant in the estimated valuation of the water company's plant.

STOLEN SEAL SKIN HAS BEEN RECOVERED. Chief of Police Hodgkins today received from the authorities at Seattle a fine $100 seal skin cloak and a valuable plush cloak as a part of the stolen property recovered from the late Clarence Glendon, the "electrical burglar," and his pal, Tessie. Chief Hodgkins learned of the disposition of the valuable apparel some time ago, and it was but recently located by the Seattle authorities. The parties promptly gave up possession and a few days ago the goods were shipped from there.

COMPANY A IS NOW FORTY YEARS OLD. Company A, Fifth Infantry, N. G. C., is making elaborate arrangements for the annual hall which it will give in the armory on Twelfth street on Thanksgiving eve. The hall will be devoted to the raising of funds for the maintenance of a military company to maintain an independent existence. The hall decorations such as bunting, flags, etc., are never exceeded by any similar occasion in this city, and on the forthcoming anniversary they will exceed all previous efforts. The plan of the celebration, however, is concentrated for the present so as to allow the public to enjoy the spectacle to the greatest degree.

He is a Hard Hitter. Willie Muller, a youthful fruit peddler whose home is at the Newland House, got into an altercation yesterday with a companion named Drake. During the progress of the trouble Muller landed a left swing on Drake's chin. The blow was so hard that it broke the bones in Muller's hand and he hastened to the Receiving Hospital for repairs. Dr. Egan attended him. Drake was none the worse for the conflict.

NEVADA COMPLIMENTED

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire. WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—Monitor No. 8, formerly known as the Connecticut, building at Bath, Me., has been renamed the Nevada by Secretary Long. The State authorities of Connecticut considered that their commonwealth was entitled to the honor of the battleship. Secretary Long, however, considered the compliment bestowed by the Secretary of the Navy in naming one of the four monitors now under construction in honor of the State of Nevada.

SICKLES SWINDLED.

He Has a Stockbroker Arrested for Grand Larceny.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire. NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—J. Fletcher Sherer, the stockbroker and member of the New York Stock Exchange, who failed last week, was arrested today, charged with grand larceny. Lemuel W. Baxter, Sherer's bookkeeper, also was arrested. Both men were arrested on warrants issued at the instance of General Daniel L. Sickles, the charge being the securing of $10,000 of General Sickles' money under false representation.

Sickles alleged that some time last summer he gave Sherer $10,000 in cash to invest in Manhattan, St. Paul, Northern Pacific and other stocks, and that since that time Sherer has refused to give an accounting. Daniel P. Hays, attorney for General Sickles, said that the specific charge is for $10,000, the aggregate amount will reach nearly $100,000.

HOLD-UP IN ARKANSAS.

Train Robbers Thought to Have Secured Little Booty.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire. ST. LOUIS, Nov. 22.—The Cannon Ball train on the Missouri Pacific and Iron Mountain railroads, which was held up by a mob of men at Clifton, three miles from Malvern, Ark., last night, reached here at 10 A. M. today. Sam H. Avery, the express messenger, who was injured in the attempt to dynamite the through safe on the express car, was the only one of the crew who came through the train. He was badly cut by flying splinters. The messenger could not tell how much the robbers secured, but thought the amount was small. The damaged express car was left at Little Rock.

NO ARGUMENT NEEDED.

Every Sufferer from Catarrh Knows That Salves, Lotions, Washes, Sprays and Douches Do Not Cure.

Powders, lotions, salves, sprays and inhalers cannot really cure Catarrh, because this disease is a blood disease, and local applications, if they accomplish anything at all, simply give transient relief. The Catarrh is a disease of the blood and the mucous membrane of the nose, throat and trachea tries to relieve the system by secreting large quantities of mucus, the discharge sometimes closing up the nostrils, dropping into the throat, causing deafness by closing the Eustachian tubes, and after a time causing catarrh of stomach or serious throat and lung troubles.

A remedy to really cure Catarrh must be an internal remedy which will cleanse the blood from catarrhal poison and remove the fever and congestion from the mucous membrane. The best and most modern remedy for this purpose are anti-septic and antitoxic known as Catarrh Tablets, which contain Bismuth, Iodine, and Hydrastine, and while each of these has been successfully used separately, it has been difficult to get them all combined in one palatable, convenient and efficient form.

The manufacturers of the new Catarrh cure, Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, have succeeded admirably in accomplishing this purpose. They are large, pleasant tasting lozenges, to be dissolved in the mouth, thus reaching every part of the mucous membrane of the throat and finally the stomach.

Unlike many Catarrh remedies, Stuart's Catarrh Tablets contain no cocaine, opiate or any injurious drug whatever and are equally beneficial for little children and adults.

Dr. C. H. Rembrandt of Rochester, N. Y., says: "I know of few people who have suffered as much as I from Catarrh of the head, throat and stomach. I used many lotions and powders for months with only slight relief and had no hope of cure. I had not the means to make a change of climate, which seemed my only chance of cure. Last spring I read an account of some remarkable cures made by Stuart's Catarrh Tablets and promptly bought a box. I had great relief and in a short time I was cured. I feel I can bear as well as ever. They are a household necessity in my family. Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are sold by druggists at 25 cents for complete treatment, and for convenience, safety and prompt results they are undoubtedly the best looked for Catarrh cure."

BLACKSMITH MEETS WITH AN ACCIDENT.

Mark Hughes, a blacksmith whose shop is on Fifth street near Broadway, nearly had the thumb torn from his left hand today in a most peculiar manner. He was shoeing a horse and had just driven a nail through the hoof when the animal kicked. The protruding point of the nail caught Hughes in the ball of the hand, penetrating through to the bone of the thumb. The flesh was ripped away from the bone before Hughes disengaged his thumb from the nail. He was given medical assistance at the Receiving Hospital. The surgeons believe it is possible to save the injured thumb. Hughes resides at 315 Third street.

WAR TAXES TO BE LOWERED.

Committee is Now at Work on the New Measure.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—The Republican members of the Ways and Means Committee today decided to present the bill for the reduction of the revenue to the full committee Saturday, December 1st, at 10 o'clock. The bill, however, probably will be prepared some time before that.

Commissioner Wilson of the Internal Revenue Bureau was before the Committee some time today, giving information concerning the effect of the reduction of certain schedules, and also as to the amount of revenue raised by portions of the present law which it is proposed to reduce. The committee has agreed on a number of schedules to be reduced, while on others there is a disagreement. It is probable that sub-committees soon will be appointed to make a final draft of the measure.

WORK OF THE STORM.

Southern Pacific Wires Down and Many Washouts.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 22.—The wires of the Southern Pacific Company on this coast are prostrated as the result of the storm. A number of washouts have occurred especially in the southern part of the State, where traffic has been delayed considerably. The East-bound business of the company is moving smoothly and the officials of the company expect to have the coast business straightened out within twenty-four hours.

WIFE WINS SUIT.

Rich Mining Man Parts With Wife and Coin.

SPOKANE, Wash., Nov. 22.—The divorce troubles of William J. Harris, the wealthy mining man, ended today when Judge Prather approved a stipulation which provided for a settlement of $20,000, brought about by Harris by his wife, and Judge Richardson granted her a decree of divorce. Harris agrees to give her $25,000 as provided in their original agreement, and settles $25,000 upon her daughter Louise, besides paying the wife a large additional sum, the amount of which is kept secret. Harris made his money in Roseland mines, being associated with Senator Turner and others in the War Eagle and Lerol.

SCHOOL BOYS ARE LANDED IN PRISON.

Clifford and Walter Brown, two little Alameda school boys, were taken to the County Jail last night by Constable Clarke. The charge against them is disturbing the peace. They were arrested on complaint of Harry French, who claims they waylaid his son on his way from school and thrashed him for some boyish offense.

THIS LITTLE BROTHER NEEDS CORRECTING.

Enga Elke, a 10-year-old school girl, whose home is at 255 Second street, was attacked by her younger brother today, who threw a stone at her, hitting her on the forehead. A long, gaping wound was cut in the flesh. The child's mother took her to the Receiving Hospital, where Warden Page dressed her injuries.

Nail in His Foot.

J. E. Stuart of 251 1/2 Twelfth street, while piling old lumber today, dropped a plank on his left foot. There was a nail in the stick of timber penetrated Stuart's foot between the great and second toes. He was carried to the Receiving Hospital, where Warden Page dressed the wound. If blood poisoning does not follow, no serious results are anticipated.

POISON TO BE USED BY BURGLARS.

Mysterious Case That is Puzzling the Detectives.

Charles T. Gitting, who was wanted in Berkeley for a burglary alleged to have been committed by him in the University town some days ago, was arrested this morning by Detectives Holland and Sherry at the Webber House, corner of Twelfth and Franklin streets. The arrest is surrounded by most peculiar circumstances, in which the commission of several crimes is involved, including burglary and the leading array of a young girl, beside the possible attempt to poison some one.

It appears that for the past two days an anxious and almost desperate father, Mr. Bennett, has been searching for a wife for his missing daughter. Night and day he searched in vain until last evening he obtained a clue to the effect that his daughter had been seen in the vicinity of Twelfth and Franklin streets.

This morning Mr. Bennett appeared to the local police department for aid in his search, and Detectives Holland and Sherry were detailed to investigate and use every means to locate the girl, who is less than 17 years old. The detectives promptly visited the Webber House and a thorough search was made. The landlord and landlady, they giving every assistance. All of the rooms were visited, and there remained but one more to inspect. It was room 6, and the landlord stated that this room had been engaged night before last by a strange young man, and that last night he had brought home with him another young man. The two had left the room early this morning, had notified them that the room must be vacated for it had been occupied fully twenty-four hours.

A gentle tap by one of the detectives brought the original renter to the door of room 6, and for a moment it was believed that the long search for the missing girl had been all in vain. The surprise of the detectives can easily be imagined when they entered the room and found not only Miss Bennett, but Gardner, alias Gitting, the burglar, as well.

There was a brief consultation between the detectives and Mr. Bennett, and it was decided to send the girl home with her father. Gardner made all sorts of protestations and agreed that he would marry the girl forthwith. Instead he and his supposed accomplice were taken to the City Prison where their names were registered on the small book.

Later the landlord at the Webber House reported the finding of a small package of poison, to all appearances strychnine. This he said he had found in the room occupied by the trio. To what purpose this poison was to have been put can only be conjectured.

A prominent glass dealer across the bay has filed a petition in insolvency. That's the kind of business that can be regarded as in a hopeless condition if it ever goes broke.

One of the first amendments to the war revenue bill is to the removal of the tax on telegrams. Congress is apparently going to show the country that it is determined to do its work with dispatch.

A muffled prince sold for $70 at an auction sale in London the other day. Apart from the royal ancestry of the specimen it was curious enough from the standpoint that it had been possible to make a woman dry up.

Four hundred arrests were made at the threatened roundup in Chicago this week of confidence men, bunco sharps and shun hummers of high and low degree. With the catch 66 behind the bars at one time the Chicago season is likely to be very dull this fall.

It is something of a coincidence that the moment the Bishop Potter crusade has started up in New York, Croker has hied himself to Europe on what he declares is important business. The prospective ordeal of the witness stand, though, is beyond a doubt the real reason for his sudden departure, for the Tammany chief's conscience sounds an ominous warning to him whenever any Parkhursting is going on.

NATIVES AS AUXILIARIES.

The employment of loyal Filipinos to aid the American army in running down the guerrilla bands of their fellow-countrymen is about to be tried by General MacArthur, and the outcome will be looked for with considerable interest. If the expedition that is now on its way to hunt down Aguinaldo succeeds in accomplishing anything, it is our trouble in the Philippines are at an end. With a very small force of United States regulars, aided by the native soldiers, we ought to be able in a very short time to bring the rebellious Tagals to a condition of tractability.

There is no doubt that in the utilization of the native soldiers we are on the way to solve the great problem that has worried the army officials. They realize that while the organized rebellion has been knuckled into a cocked hat the desultory species of warfare that has succeeded it is much more difficult to deal with than the organized armies. These bands of brigands are bent upon no higher purpose than robbery and loot and are operating in such small force that they are difficult of extermination. By paying the loyal natives well for their services and giving them every inducement to aid in restoring order and policing the islands there is no reason why the rebel host should not be run down on their own occupation made so precarious that they will of their own volition seek more peaceful methods of obtaining a livelihood.

From all accounts there is a large number of the islanders anxious to assist in fighting the Filipinos. The MacArthur has no hereditary enemies, and ever since the American occupation have exhibited a desire to unfold the flag and a willingness to assist in a stirring new to the islands. With their aid and the cooperation of the loyal Filipinos we can easily anticipate that the Aguinaldo filibuster will soon find discretion the better part of valor and give up the contest. During the fall campaign in this country the army operations were mutually assisted by the help of friendly natives and in fact the rebel invader, who has been a constant trouble to the army officials here, fell to their valuable assistance, and there is no reason to suppose that any reason why the Filipinos themselves should not play as effective a part in restoring order and peace in the islands.

RUSSIA'S RESTRICTIVE TARIFF.

It now transpires that the Russian government has fixed a duty of eighty cents per barrel on all flour imported into Siberia, the tariff to take effect on and after January 1st. This will, it is declared, give a monopoly of the trade to the Black Sea millers and tend to utterly exclude the American product. Further duties are under consideration and it is the expressed intention of the Russian government to discriminate in favor of its own productions. Of course it cannot be blamed for adopting every means possible to protect its own products from competition with foreign manufacturers, but we can also retaliate upon those nations which make it a point to bar out our products, as was done in the case with Germany when undue restrictions were put upon American meats. It was not long after we got our retaliatory schedule into perfect working order that it suddenly dawned upon the Tsarist mind that American meats were not so bad as they were officially reported, and as a consequence when the shoe pinched them the restrictions were removed.

Since that lesson our trade relations have been of the most amicable character and everything has been running along as smoothly as if it never had any other course. We can fit the case in a few tender places, and it is possible that when our government is made officially acquainted with the facts of the case some action will be taken that will soon convince the Muscovite of the error of his ways and induce him to modify his figures on flour. This country is so situated that while it protects its own people with a high tariff it can always retaliate upon those who seek to bar us from the benefits of the world's markets. Of course this may not appear fair to the lay mind, but it is business, and we are going to get trade wherever we can.

THE ARMY BILL.

The approach of the session of Congress is naturally enough giving rise to a preliminary discussion of the main issues that are certain to engage attention, and among those there is nothing that is proving of more interest than the question of what shall be done regarding our military establishment. Under the existing law the army must be reduced to about 27,000 men by the 30th of next June, and to do this would mean to at once start binning back the volunteers from China, the Philippines, Cuba and wherever else they are located. Such a course would have all effects, for in the Philippines, for example, to reduce the forces at this time would mean to indefinitely postpone the suppression of the insurrection and the restoration of order, and would impose additional burdens on the Government, both in the expenditure of men, money and material.

As this issue of militarism was made one of the principal points of the recent political campaign, and as the people declared themselves overwhelmingly in favor of the policy adopted by the Administration, there is no likelihood whatever that any reduction of forces will be made by Congress, but on the contrary it is anticipated that legislation will be adopted on the lines mapped out by the President, who will recommend in his message that authority be given the War Department to continue the regular establishment as now constituted either for a specified period sufficient to insure the suppression of the Philippine insurrection or else fix the strength of the army permanently at from 67,000 to 100,000 men. Senator Proctor, who will probably handle the issue in the upper house, is said to have formulated a bill reorganizing the army on the basis of a minimum strength of 50,000 men and a maximum of 66,000, with authority to increase the number to 100,000 the latter to be determined at the discretion of the President. It is proposed under this plan to make each company of infantry and troop of cavalry to consist of a minimum of sixty men, which could be increased to 120 whenever the emergency required. The artillery batteries mounted and foot, would have a larger number of men, the advances and improvements in that branch of the service necessitating the addition.

The volunteer element in the service is likely to be a source of considerable trouble, no matter what is done, for it can be seen that it occupies a peculiar position. To incorporate the volunteers into the regular service would be great injustice to the old officers of the regular army, who would thus be outbumped by younger men appointed to the volunteer regiments, and in most instances owing their promotion solely to political and social influences. The only fair way out of the difficulty, therefore, seems to be to transfer them out upon the expiration of their terms of enlistment, and then, in the case of those who have distinguished themselves by brilliant service, or who have shown other good cause for their continuance in army life, commissions in the regular service can be granted. In such a way, though, as not to interfere with the promotion of deserving regular officers. Altogether the army legislation is going to be of considerable moment, for so many interests are dependent upon it that it will take master hands to steer clear of the rocks and snags that are sure to line the way.

Aguinaldo is to be run down by picked traders who have received orders to capture him dead or alive. That is the kind of move that will put the finishing touches upon the insurrection for there is little doubt that he is the sole instigator of the troubles yet remaining. With Aguinaldo out of the way and the last vestige of pseudo-local authority thus removed, the Tagals will melt down fast enough.

Baden-Powell's Branch of Decorum.

Some very good stories, with General Baden-Powell as centerpiece, have already been told. Here is another: The gallant major-general, it will be remembered, not long ago tapped a telegraph wire and heard Globler ask both to send reinforcements, as Baden-Powell had cornered him. "B-P," took measures accordingly.

An account of this exploit was read at a Herne May breakfast table and was eagerly listened to by a little girl of five years. When the older members of the family had enjoyed a good laugh over "B-P's" adroitness, the little girl gravely said:

"Well, I think it was very rude, indeed, of him to listen."

SOCIETY.

There was a pretty home wedding at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Shorley, 68 Seventeenth street, Tuesday evening, when their charming and talented daughter, Miss Anna Shorley, was given away as the bride of Mr. Charles McLafferty.

The parlor of the Shorley home were prettily decorated with the flowers of the season, and the ceremony was witnessed by a large number of friends of the young couple.

Rev. C. M. Hill, pastor of the Tenth Avenue Baptist Church, officiated. The conventional bridesmaid and best man were dispensed with, and in their stead the little nephew and niece of the groom acted as ring-bearers.

After the ceremony a sumptuous wedding supper was served, and later the bride and groom left for San Francisco. They are on their honeymoon trip, which will include a tour through the southern part of the State.

The bride is well known in society circles here. The groom is an electrician in the employ of the Union Iron Works.

A very pleasant party was given by Mr. and Mrs. Peter Knutson in their daughter Katharine's home in the little hall of the railway building on Thirteenth street.

It was the sixteenth birthday of the young lady, and friends from far and wide were present to join in the festivities. During the earlier part of the evening there was a musical and literary program which was followed by dancing.

At 12 o'clock the party adjourned to the rooms above the hall, where light refreshments were served and Miss Knutson's sixteen summers were toasted.

PROF. ROSS AT UNITARIAN CHURCH.
Professor Edward A. Ross, late of the Stanford University, lecturer to a large audience last night in Wendell Hall on the "British Empire." The speaker avoided any reference to his retirement from Stanford.

In a large sense the lecture was historical, but the conclusion was devoted to an interesting forecast of Great Britain's future and a forecast of the more weighty problems confronting the realization of its national policy.

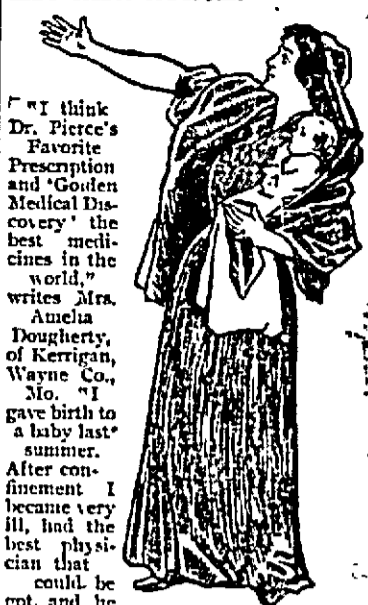

The lecturer said in part: "In my opinion."

Asthma.

Do you know what it is? The hard struggle for air, the spasmodic breathing, the nights spent in a chair, all tell the story of terrible suffering. But Ayer's Cherry Pectoral cures asthma. There is no doubt about it. We have hundreds of grateful testimonials to this effect.

These attest the worth of an ordinary cough medicine, but right for asthma, bronchitis, whooping cough, colds, etc. Sells for $1.00, most economical for chronic cases.

"I lingered between life and death."

"I think Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Golden Medical Discovery' the best medicines in the world," writes Mrs. Amelia Dougherty, of Kerrigan, Wayne Co., Mo. "I gave birth to a baby last summer. After confinement I became very ill, and the best physician that could be got, could not diagnose my case as uterine trouble tending to drop. Medicine seemed to do me no good. I lingered between life and death for quite a while, every day growing weaker until I could not walk across the room. My friends were looking for my death every minute. A friend wrote and told me about Dr. R. V. Pierce, and I at once wrote to him for medical advice. He replied immediately, giving me full instructions as to what to do. I at once followed his advice, and when I had taken his medicine about a week I felt a good deal stronger. When I had taken it about one month I felt as strong as I do today. I took four bottles of each kind and two vials of 'Pleasant Pellets.' Many thanks for the medicine. It has permanently cured me."

One of the most fearful and dangerous time of the British Empire will be the next twenty years—that is, up to 1921. In that period it will be decided whether the empire is to proceed or whether it is to break up. At present the bulk of the empire—its territorial area—has outgrown the power of the empire. The 40,000,000 inhabitants of Great Britain and 11,000,000 colonies will have to take it upon themselves to stand in the breach to maintain order and union among 45,000,000 people. You can see that England's fighting strength does not equal that of the United States with 100,000,000 people, but 50,000,000 must perform the gigantic task of holding all these widely scattered 40,000,000 of the empire together."

In closing, the speaker expressed the opinion that it is national imperialism which will characterize the coming century.

It Saved His Leg.
P. A. Danforth of LaGrange, Ga., suffered intensely for six months with a frightful running sore on his leg, but writes that Bucklen's Arnica Salve wholly cured it in ten days. THE ARMY BILL.

The approach of the session of Congress is naturally enough giving rise to a preliminary discussion of the main issues that are certain to engage attention, and among those there is nothing that is proving of more interest than the question of what shall be done regarding our military establishment.

As this issue of militarism was made one of the principal points of the recent political campaign, and as the people declared themselves overwhelmingly in favor of the policy adopted by the Administration, there is no likelihood whatever that any reduction of forces will be made by Congress, but on the contrary it is anticipated that legislation will be adopted on the lines mapped out by the President, who will recommend in his message that authority be given the War Department to continue the regular establishment as now constituted either for a specified period sufficient to insure the suppression of the Philippine insurrection or else fix the strength of the army permanently at from 67,000 to 100,000 men.

Senator Proctor, who will probably handle the issue in the upper house, is said to have formulated a bill reorganizing the army on the basis of a minimum strength of 50,000 men and a maximum of 66,000, with authority to increase the number to 100,000 the latter to be determined at the discretion of the President.

TWO CARDINALS
FOR AMERICAPope Recognizes the Church's Growth in
This Country.

Associated Press Dispatches by Wire.
The Tribune's Special London Wire.
NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—A dispatch to the Tribune from Rome says:
A very strange condition of feeling exists between the Austrian representative of the Vatican and the Holy See. It concerns the coming distribution of Cardinals' hats.

The Austrian government has of late been arguing with much persistence that the Archbishop of Prague should receive the coveted scarlet. The Holy See, however, is not inclined to do this. The Archbishop of Prague is considered by Austrians, but not by the Vatican, to be of a prominent rank and has been held by a succession of dignitaries of primary title. It is now occupied by Baron Schönbauer. The Pope, however, has just given a final decision, which is negative on the ground that the Archbishop is too young. Furthermore, there are other disappointments in view. These will touch French applications, as the number of Cardinals' hats expected by the French church will not be granted.

This decision is due to the growing importance attached by the Holy See to the increasing development of the Roman Catholic faith in the United States. In which country, in consequence, two new appointments of Cardinals have been decided upon.

This appointment of two additional American Cardinals may cause jealousy, but it is only in accordance with the amount of support which the Roman Catholic Church in the United States is giving to the Holy See as compared with other nations.

Sweet Cornish third at 6 to 1.

LESTER REIFF'S
GREAT RIDING.

Associated Press Dispatches by Wire.
The Tribune's Special London Wire.
LONDON, Nov. 22.—At the first day's racing of the Manchester Novembers, the Thursday plate of 2000 guineas, six furlongs, was won by La Fugle, ridden by Lester Reiff. Lester Reiff also had the mount on the Red Rover, which won the Trafalgar plate of 2000 guineas.

A TRAITOR'S SENTENCE

The Tribune's Special London Wire.
LONDON, Nov. 22.—At the Old Bailey today, P. E. Hodgkinson, a former British Vice-Consul at Bremerhaven, was sentenced to eighteen months' penal servitude for trying to sell a Foreign Office code book to an agent of a foreign power.

LORD ROBERTS HURT.

The Tribune's Special London Wire.
LONDON, Nov. 22.—The following dispatch has been received at the War Office from Lord Roberts, dated Johannesburg:

"My horse fell on the Saturday and bruised me somewhat. Am doing well. Hope to be about in a few days."

ARGUMENTS MADE IN GELDER CASE.

To damage case of Gelder vs. the Elgin Automobile Union was concluded in Judge Quinn's court about noon today and arguments began this afternoon in the presence of a large number of tradesmen and clear manufacturers of this city.

Gelder seeks to secure damages in the sum of $200 for injuries said to have been sustained by the Clear Union announcing his shop a non-union concern.

New Corporation.
Articles of Incorporation of the Carey Mining and Milling Company were filed today. The company intends to engage in mining operations in El Dorado county. The capital stock is $100,000, of which $20,000 has been subscribed by the following:

BOLD ROBBERS HOLD UP A DRUG CLERK

Robbery Took Place in Lighted Store at 10 O'clock.

Probably owing to the inclemency of the weather the past few weeks, the opening of the winter season's series of hold-ups was delayed until shortly after 10 o'clock last night, when two masked men entered the drug store at Eighth and Perilla streets, and covering the proprietor, Clayton K. Smith, with their revolvers, relieved the cash register of $30 and Mr. Smith of his valuable watch.

Before the robbers departed they also helped themselves to several good cigars, and then cutting the telephone wires, said farewell.

The drug store was still well lighted when the robbers entered. The prescription case filling a prescription that had just been sent in by a physician. Suddenly the store door opened, and as Smith went to see who had stepped in, two young men, so he claims, each about 25 or 30 years old, with handkerchiefs tied across the lower part of their faces, leaving only their eyes exposed, leveled their revolvers at his head and ordered "hands up!"

"My first thought was," said Mr. Smith, in commenting on the hold-up, "that it was some of the young fellows of the neighborhood trying to scare me, and I replied, 'Oh, go on,' and returned to my work. Instantly one ran around one side of the case and the other on the other side, and as they were then behind the counter I began to think they meant business, and asked: 'Do you mean it?' They replied that they did, and shoved their revolvers in his face.

"My hands went up then, and they stood me up with my face to the case, and while the smaller of the two kept a big revolver pressed against the back of my head the other searched me and took my watch, money and gold eye-glasses, but overlooked some gold I had in my vest pocket. Then the smaller fellow searched me out of the back room, while the other went through the cash register and the cigars. After doing this he came back and they took a towel and tied my hands behind me. Then the little fellow, evidently from sheer brutality, struck me across the head with his revolver, the big fellow took his knife and cut the telephone wires, and they both ran out. As soon as I heard the door close I struggled with my bonds, and, working my hands loose, went out the side door to blow my whistle. This at once called a crowd and the police were notified."

Captain Peterson detailed Sergeant Green and a squad of police on the case, but the robbers had made good their escape by the time the patrol load of policemen arrived. Several pedestrians coming down Eighth street reported that they saw two men running in the direction of the railroad yards, and it is believed that the robbers managed to take a train for San Francisco.

This is the second hold-up at Smith's drug store in the past six months. On the previous occasion a clerk claimed to have been held up in a similar manner, but his story was discredited.

BERKELEY MAN IS AN INSOLVENT.

E. C. Kemble of Berkeley has filed a petition in insolvency in the United States District Court. His entire indebtedness amounts to $23,711. The papers were filed "in forma pauperis," Kemble making affidavit that he had not the means to pay costs and fees.

Chief among Kemble's creditors is Timothy Paige of this city, from whom the debtor purchased land in Tulare county, worth $100,000, giving mortgages for same. The other creditors are mostly firms in Chicago, who supplied Kemble with materials and labor for the construction of a hotel at the time of the World's Fair. The venture proved unsuccessful, and in July, 1898, Kemble made an assignment for the benefit of his creditors. The proceedings instituted are to make a final clearing up of his affairs.

ALAMEDA BOARD HOLDS A MEETING.

ALAMEDA, Nov. 22.—At the meeting of the Board of Education the directors voted to pay half of the expense of the inter-high school debate between Berkeley and Alameda, which is to be held here early in December. Miss Garratt, a teacher in the Encinal School, was given three months' leave of absence on account of illness. Superintendent Hughes reported that in response to the appeal for aid for the schools of Alameda, the local schools and a total of $50,000 secured and forwarded to the stricken city. The amounts contributed by the children of the several schools were as follows: Longfellow, $10.60; Haight, $16; Encinal, $21.41; Wilson, $14.50; Porter, $16; Everett, $31.31.

Estate Appraised.

MINISTER CONGER IS VENGEFUL.

Thinks Punishment of Boxer Leaders is Inadequate.

His Views in Conflict With Those of the President.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire. NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—According to a special from Washington to the Herald, Minister Conger's dispatch to Secretary Hay asserting his belief that the punishment of Chinese leaders imposed by the decree issued by the business government is not adequate is opposed to the opinion held by the President and the Secretary of State.

Another important development in the situation is that Germany has proposed that, as a condition to continuing the negotiations, China be compelled to execute the alien princes and officials alleged to be responsible for the Chinese outrages. This condition is very distasteful to the Administration, which is expected to take steps to secure its modification.

Mr. Conger's message was in response to an inquiry from Secretary Hay, sent immediately after the presentation of the decree to the Government by Minister Wu. The Secretary stated that the United States did not intend to pursue a policy of vengeance, but stated that because of Mr. Conger's experience the determination of whether the punishment imposed was adequate, Secretary Hay also urged him to take into full consideration the attitude of the Chinese and the ability of the Imperial government to carry out more severe sentences.

It is evident to the officials that the steps through which Mr. Conger and other Ministers went last summer has angered them against the Chinese and caused them to be foremost in demanding blood retribution. In the hope of deterring Mr. Conger from any ideas of vengeance, W. H. Rockhill was sent to Peking as his adviser. It is an open secret that the authorities would have preferred the reference of the negotiations to a commission, composed of commissioners, three in number, appointed by each power, but this plan failed of accomplishment.

The proposal of Germany that the continuation of negotiations depends upon the execution of the princes and officials thought responsible for the outrages is another form of the proposition submitted weeks ago by Baron von Sternberg, then German Charge d'Affaires. Germany proposed at that time that as a condition precedent to negotiations the Chinese government be compelled to surrender the "first and real perpetrators of the crimes committed against international law."

The President is considering the new German proposal, and he will probably decline to agree to it, suggesting some modification that may lead to a satisfactory solution. An official said that as some of those condemned by the Ministers are powerful princes and officials controlling Chinese forces, it is plain that unless the Imperial government desires the carrying out of the ultimatum of the foreign representatives, it is able to arrest the culprits quickly they are likely to combine in their own defense. The possibility is suggested that they might kill the Emperor. Such an act would be a signal for an anti-foreign outbreak all over China and would have consequences which the authorities hesitate to contemplate.

VARSITY PLAYS ITS LAST GAME.

BERKELEY, Nov. 22.—The Varsity will play its last football game before Thanksgiving day with the San Jose Normal eleven on the campus this afternoon. The San Jose team defeated the California second eleven last Saturday by a score of 6 to 0. The field is heavy with mud and a slow game is expected. Al Lean, who has handled Varsity and track teams for years, has signed to take care of the Berkeley men until after the big game. Trainer Huffmuller has his hands full with a long list of sick and injured players. Sam Shaw, the highly fashionable football player, who was a likely candidate for fight guard on the Varsity, has been forced to stop playing owing to parental objections. He will be able to play next year. His place will be filled either by O'Toole or by Overall, who has been moved up from the line. Eight coaches got behind the team at the secret practice this afternoon. Besides Coach Kelly, Los Angeles Coach Simpson, Archie Pierce, "Bibby" Caldwell, Pete Knarsburg, Sterlin Carr and James Hopper worked with the backs and line.

PILE OF GOLD SPENT IN A BIG WEDDING

It Cost About $574,000 to Make This the Finest Nuptials of the Season.

From wedding march to rice and slippers the joining together of Miss Louisa Morgan, daughter of Pierpont Morgan, and Herbert L. Satterlee, was a brilliant success, and easily took rank as the foremost wedding of the season, says the New York Journal of November 16th.

It was a "red wedding." The ushers were red four-in-hands and red metroroses. The bridesmaids wore red capotes, suggestive of Tam o'Shanter, and carried bunches of red roses. Red was a predominant color in the decorations, save in the church, where white blossoms and green palms predominated.

Bishop Satterlee of Washington celebrated the betrothal service and the Rev. Dr. Rainsford the marriage.

The reception was a brilliant one. The marquee, with its sunburst ceiling and its priceless tapestries on the walls, pictured the triumphal journey of Ptochus Ajello, furnished a unique and memorable setting for the collation.

The bride cake was cut and the pair toasted at a table set for thirty in the art gallery. Slippers and rice sent the happy pair away in the good old-fashioned way. Fully eighteen hundred guests participated in the function.

There were over $500,000 in wedding gifts, which filled five wagons.

Number of presents about 800. Value, approximately, $300,000. They filled two rooms in the bride's home. Required four detectives to guard them. Five wagons were required to cart the gifts to safe deposit vaults.

There were two very costly diamond and one pearl necklaces. There were six silver table services. A diamond tiara worth $20,000. Four diamond studded watches and four rich clocks.

About $574,000 was spent to make the wedding notable as follows:

Trousseau, $50,000; flowers, $10,000; wedding fee, $1,000; gifts to bridesmaids, $2,000; favors for ushers, $1,500; music, $500; collation, $5,000; wines, $1,000; wedding presents, $200,000; total cost of wedding, $574,000.

The bride wore a superb gown of ivory satin, trimmed with point d'Alencon lace. The bodice, which was really low neck, had its décolletage filled in with a white net which fitted so well that it showed her handsome neck and shoulders to admirable advantage. Below this yoke a foliated design of lace was applied, radiating from the waist to the softly draped lace train, on which a large diamond sunburst was arranged on the left side, and a smaller diamond brooch on the right. The skirt, which had an immense train, was draped in front with an exquisite shawl of point d'Alencon. Her veil, which matched it, fell almost the entire length of the train, giving her the effect of being attired entirely in lace. It was fastened to her collar with an aligrette of orange blossoms and a spray of diamond roses and their leaves. She carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley.

Some of the presents were: Diamond studded Roman gold bracelet; brooch composed of immense emerald in center and surrounded by diamonds; twisted gold link necklace with a dozen small pendants of diamonds and emeralds at regular distances apart; massive crescent pin set with diamonds; Roman gold belt buckle set with garnets, emeralds and diamonds; gold hairpin, with immense diamond set on spiral wire spring; woman's gold watch, large diamond set in center of each case; heart-shaped gold locket set with diamonds; gem-studded watch; gold watch, one case of which is completely covered with diamonds; diamond studded gold card case; snake skin gold-mounted purse set with rubies and diamonds; brooch of filigree gold set with rubies; tortoise shell back hair comb set with diamonds; pair side combs of gold set with topaz and diamonds; long gold neck chain, alternate links set with small diamonds; carved ivory toilet set, bearing the bride's initials in diamonds; gold-headed manicule set, each article being set with diamonds and pearls; music box inlaid with pearls and precious stones; gold glove box, set with diamonds and emeralds; gold aligrette set with diamonds and pigeon-blood rubies on spiral springs; gold handkerchief box, the bride's monogram outlined with diamonds; two complete silver and gold-lined table services; gold teapot, sugar bowl and cream jug; scores of silver articles for the table; gold toilet set, studded with diamonds; silver punch bowl and cups; one dozen gold individual salts; four beautiful imported clocks of unique design; opera glasses in gold; gold traveling clock in Morocco case; gold opera glasses set with diamonds, emeralds and rubies; antique gold bracelet, containing miniature picture of Queen Elizabeth and set with jewels; heavy gold jewel casket, the corners of which were set with emeralds; leather-covered prayer book in a jeweled case with diamond-studded clasp.

E. P. TAYLOR IS SEEKING DAMAGES.

The suit of Edward P. Taylor against the Southern Pacific Company is on in Judge Rhodes' court. The suit is to collect $10,000 damages for the killing of plaintiff's son on the railroad track on the evening of June 8, 1898. It will be recalled that the boy, whose home was in Oakland, was here visiting his uncle, E. A. Taylor, the newspaper agent. He with a young friend, who was a newspaper carrier, were out in a cart serving papers. They were run into by a switch engine and Taylor was killed. The father sues claiming negligence on the part of the railroad company in doing switching outside the yards and without any safeguard for the public. Crandall, Bull & Harrow represent plaintiff and Foshay & Walker and S. F. Lieb are for defendant. The jury consists of Morgan Miles, A. C. Bates, J. M. McMillan, E. Lieberhardt, E. F. Griffin, W. Zanker, C. A. Rothwell, S. F. Nicholson, S. F. Bennett, C. T. Knudsen, W. F. Lensen and Edward Higgins. E. A. Taylor was the only witness put on yesterday. He related the circumstances of the killing and showed on a chart the point where it occurred and explained the tracks there.—San Jose Mercury.

A MOTHER GIVES WHISKY TO HER CHILDREN

Knowing that it is a stimulant and that there is a sufficient reason why such a powerful potion should be given. Only in an emergency will a mother adopt such drastic measures, because every intelligent woman knows that strong stimulants should not be given children. Even grown people cannot partake regularly of stimulants without eventually shattering the nervous system. Whisky, however, is not the only beverage that plays havoc with the nervous system. The continuous use of coffee and tea has a most injurious effect on many people. The caffeine in coffee is a strong stimulant and the tannin in tea is almost as bad as the caffeine in coffee. The healthful and agreeable substitute for coffee and tea is Figprune Cereal. It is made from selected fruit and grain. Figprune is a food beverage of the highest order. Physicians use and recommend it. A rich, nourishing drink.—Try it. At all grocers.

FINISH FIGHT OR NONE SAYS JIM JEFFRIES.

He Refuses to Meet James J. Corbett in a Twenty Round Contest.

Big Purse Offered By a Cincinnati Club for the Big Battle.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—A new figure has loomed up on the pugilistic horizon. Herman J. Witte, a lawyer from Cincinnati, has called upon Corbett and Champion Jeffries with an offer of $15,000 for a twenty-round bout to take place on or before February 15th. Mr. Witte's offer was practically accepted by Corbett, who said that he would increase the purse to $20,000 by adding $5,000 to the original amount bid. Jeffries, however, refused to consider the proposition, saying that conditions were out of the question.

Mr. Witte said that he represented the Business Men's Association of Cincinnati, and was instructed to offer $15,000 or 60 per cent of the gross receipts for a go between Corbett and Jeffries. The Mayor of the city, according to Mr. Witte, has given the promoters a sanction to have one contest before February 15th, so as to aid the Business Men's Association fund. The organization has for some time occupied the convention hall, but as it will vacate the building in February, it is the officers' intention to hold a big fight there to make up a deficit in the association's fund before going.

Mr. Witte put the proposition before Jeffries, but the latter said:

"You see, in the first place, the bout is for only twenty rounds. The contest should be thirty-five rounds. I would prefer to fight Corbett to a finish."

Mr. Witte told Jeffries that it would be impossible to have the contest longer than twenty rounds, as the authorities would not permit it.

Jeffries then made a final proposition for a meeting:

"I will fight Corbett in Cincinnati for a purse of $25,000, but the bout must be to a finish. Corbett must put a side bet of $10,000 and the winner is to take all. If Cincinnati people are not ready to come to terms under these conditions, then my offer to meet Corbett to a finish will stand open for twenty-four hours. If by that time Corbett does not accept I will ignore him forever."

Two sporting men from Memphis called on Jeffries and offered to pull off his fight with Ruhlitz, but the purse was considered by him too insignificant.

When Corbett was informed of Jeffries' proposition to fight to a finish he said it was ridiculous.

NEW DEAL IN BASEBALL.

CHICAGO, Nov. 22.—The Times-Herald says: John J. McGraw became a full-fledged baseball magnate last evening. He was gathered into a conference of American League men, some of whom had never before met, shown the color of a franchise for Baltimore, and in the end said he thought he had lighted on a live thing at last.

In a league conference at the Grand Pacific Hotel, of which McGraw was the central figure, were President B. B. Johnson, James Manning, advanced to Washington; James D. Burns of Detroit, Matt Kilien of Milwaukee and Comiskey of Chicago. It was really a love feast, with Johnson as toastmaster and McGraw as principal speaker. Although the men present intimated that nothing had happened, that the affair was just an informal conference, and so on, as per baseball ethics, the new magnate from Baltimore wound up the discussion by asking for a few dozen players' contracts, and intimated that it was never too early to begin looking for men.

On the heels of the confirmed story that McGraw has taken the American League "to have and to hold" comes a report that Indianapolis will not be a member of the circuit next year. While the magnates will admit nothing, neither will they deny that Buffalo is to be held and granted a one-year franchise, while Indianapolis will go the way of Kansas City and Minneapolis. Buffalo is expected to be a grand baseball town next summer on account of the Pan-American Exposition, and the League wants to reap that advantage. By granting a franchise for only one year the way will be open to further expand the circuit in 1902 if there is a better city to fight. President Franklin of Buffalo is said to have left Chicago much put out that he could not get assurances for more than a year's franchise, but is disposed to accept the best he can get.

President Johnson says there will be no league meeting for thirty days. In the meantime every detail of the expansion movement will be arranged and the whole deal be cleared up before the holidays. Nearly all the magnates left Chicago last night.

McGraw says he will not leave the old National League park in Baltimore.

FINE SHOWING FOR THE COUNTY.

Controller Colgan has sent out a tabulated statement showing the following figures for Alameda county: In 1899 the value of real estate was $21,210,621; value of improvements, $11,202,102; value of personal property, $4,562,941; amount of money, $230,664; total value by Assessors, $37,196,328; population, census 1890, 62,972. In 1890 the value of real estate was $17,855,975; value of improvements, $2,172,351; value of personal property, $2,006,041; amount of money and solvent credits, $165,881; total value by Assessors, $22,134,248; population, census 1900, 120,197.

HIRSCHBERG RETIRES FROM IONE SCHOOL.

Oakland Man Will Be Elected His Successor Today.

The trustees of the Preston School of Industry, E. M. Preston of Nevada City, C. H. Dutton of Diamond Springs and J. H. Dungan of Woodland, will meet in this city tomorrow and elect the Rev. Mr. Hiddick, a Methodist minister of Oakland, Superintendent of the school to succeed David Hirschberg, who has occupied the position for the past three years, says a dispatch from Sacramento last evening. The Rev. Mr. Hiddick is the choice of Governor Caggs.

The trustees will make other changes. Public charges against Superintendent Hirschberg's management of the institution were recently investigated by the trustees, who declared they found them all to be untrue, and made a report to the Governor, in which they clearly exonerated the Superintendent of each and every charge. After the investigation Hirschberg resigned his position.

"I resigned," said Hirschberg to-night, "only because the trustees wanted to make a change for political reasons. All the trustees are Republicans while I am a Democrat."

Next week the separate or family system will be inaugurated in the school. This system is in vogue in many of the reform schools in the Eastern States and Superintendent Hirschberg says it is bound to have a beneficial effect on the boys at the Preston School.

"At the present 115 boys are at the school," said Mr. Hirschberg.

"Since the net requiring counties to pay a tax to the State of $11 a month for each boy committed to the school was passed, a few years ago, the commitments to the school have been few and far between, some of the counties preferring rather than to pay the tax to send the boys to the State prisons, where they cannot possibly have any chance to reform, because of their association with hardened criminals. The coming Legislature should repeal this law."

TRAINMEN WANT TO MAKE LITTLE MORE MONEY.

New Demands Made on the Railroad People.

Leaders Will Try to Have the Matter Adjusted.

This grievance committee of the trainmen's organizations, with their grand officers, E. L. Clark and W. G. Lee, spent another day in conference with Manager J. A. Fillmore yesterday, and from the present outlook the conference will continue through the week.

A number of matters involved in the controversy between the employees and the company, including questions of seniority rights and the right of such switchmen as are members of the trainmen's organizations to deal with the company through these organizations, have been settled with entire satisfaction to the employees.

The important matter still under consideration is the demand of the trainmen for a readjustment of their wage scale. The trainmen do not ask for a raise of wages, but what they ask will have the effect of increasing their monthly earnings on some runs.

The trainmen are required to run a certain number of miles to earn a month's pay, the mileage being determined by the character of the service performed. The required mileage, for instance, is much less on the mountain runs than in the valley districts.

The trainmen think that in some instances the stipulated mileage is excessive and onerous, and they ask for a general readjustment of the mileage schedule on a scale more favorable to themselves.

This involves the careful consideration of every run on the system, and the labor will all take some days before a final settlement of the disputed matters is reached.
